

The Inspiration

Love is a gift that demands reception. Reception is easily fooled. Knowing this I have always felt the dilemma of trust. Reflecting on that fact, I wrote the words that were simple and direct. The conclusion is something that I have carried in my thoughts since then.

Receiving The Gift Of Love

When people want to give to you
It usually has two sources
Either they give in order to get something in return
Or they give because they love
Such giving is free and unconditional

Our problem is to know the difference
We can be fooled

We receive because we think it is love and find the giving had nothing to do with us
It was all about the other person

We refuse to receive because we don't trust the motivation and miss the love we so desperately want

What we need are eyes to see the truth
What we need is a heart that is not afraid to feel vulnerable
